THE DAILY SENTINEL.

C. L. MACARTRUR & D. M. REELER, EDITORS. Friday Borning, December 27.

My We give place to the following somewhat lengthy communication, to the exclusion of our usual variety:

> For The Daily Fentiue L. The Court Room, No. 11.

Massas, Epirous, - Having, in the 9th Number of your truly good paper, given an accurate description of that portion of the Court room designed for the accommodation of Specialors Witnesses, Prisoners, and Petit Jury, and presented a just and true picture of the misery and pain inflicted apoa innocent men doomed to a programed service as jurors in such a situation, I will now entleavor to present to your view a glimpse of the arrangement of the Bar, and what, in proportion, takes up more room and is equally conspicuous and odious-the Clerk's Derk and as the effect thereof, the sometimes comical and Indicrous, and Sometimes vexed and irritated appearance of the members of the Br. Aben! This is a long sentence, espeeighly for the first, and I wonder if any body is to follow mo with a criticism.

Although that portion of the room, literally hand in for the members of the Bar, is large cue ush for their accommodation, yet how is i laid out and how is it occupied ? A railing upon a platferm elevated some eight inches above the floor, of the form of a half ellipsis, in the eintre of the room, marks the "place" of the numerous fraternity of Lawyers. Within this aranak d. lumbering tables, three feet wife and about fourteen feet long each, of a shape corresponding with the curvature of the railing, ? but so far removed therefrom as to allow of the is between them and the railing At the tween them, is the Clerk's platform-yes, plat-I im, for the Clerk, mind you, cannot put himor if he did he would not be able to use in a there it is, directly in front of, and below the Judge's seat, and occupying the whole-there! 700 fist again .-- I can tkeep that mighty Desk

The first impression of it which strikes the mit d of the beholder is one of wonder and astonishment, and that is, how came the thing there! Was it always there, and was the Court House saving That it should ever have been built elsewhere is quite improbable both from its enor-

with much ploy are, that the Cherk beats the agement of the Bar, and the equally bad practice State. The would-be candidates of the Loco reputation of Ling courteons, quiet, and unassn- of the Lawyers superinduced thereon. ming in his manuers and de, oitment; and if a Desk some four feet wide, eight feet long, and tempts to address the jury, has costacles to occur, will enable them to keep their pretensions benearly as high as the chin of some of the smaller (in stance) Members of the Bar, is now found | and annoying with the Lawyer who from the same to occupy too annea of the space of the Bar, and place endeavored to address the Court, and is enin the way of the Lawyers in keeping minutes of titled to our warmest sympathy. To besure, he the testimony and addressing the Court and Ju- can in some degree look over, if he can't overlook ry, and if the evil has been mereased by clevating it on false logs, with the tables brought up close against each end of it, so as to coop them all tween him and the jury. But this is nothing comup in a small space of 7 by 9, the fault is more with the Lewyers who are jammed up and in- the jurors on the second and third jury benches, commodes by it, for submitting to it, than with laying out of view their angular poistion in respect the Clock who derives a comfort and convenieuco beyond his proportion at their expense. I is ever the case that even the most unobtrasive, quiet and inothensive men, will, for their own accom addition, and when no objection is feelings and desires which animate and warm note or resisting to offered, take-take-and keep his boseom. The "magnetic influence" of the I diag a tinal is required for their own comfort and continued regardless of the pain or injuiv widering indicapou those who by their tomestaralesica, constantly invite fresh aggresis no up mathen rights. I am not, therefore, as all surplies if to hear that the Clerk now objects or a vica in wease of form in the Bur by a removal of the tables up against the railing, alleging on his part, it is said, that he wishes them where they are as a barrier to the intrusion upon his Desk of the Members of the Bar! 1 glorr | whom he sought to would allow of a nearer approach. so are 1, to make the very aniable compsel keep even their books and hands off from his tiny Do k. Some men, and of this description are m my of the Lawyers of this County, in more ways than this even, need the strong excitation of the most pointed and direct personal insult, or the keepest of all bodily sufferings, to arouse Them as a b dy to a just sense of their own rights and whilst they severally remain at that distance and the dignity and honor of the profession, before they can be brought to do anything but op. pose and abuse those who advocate a reformation of e ying abuses from the existence of which they seperately and severally acknowledge the accives to be almost daily sufferers .-But no more of this, at present. In some future the "Bur and Beach," I will return to this topic and give it due prominence in a more important matter than the mere convenient arrangement of the interior of the Court room. Yet in this matter even, unity of purpose and concert in action among the Members of the Bar, may be necessary to effect any improvement. Abuses grow strong with age, when custom sanctions their continuance.

Let us now take a peep at the practical opera tions of the present construction and arrangement |

of the Bar. The first and great rush is to the Clerk's deak to get access to necessary papers which are required, to file Motions, obtain Orders. and to resist such Motions, Orders and other procredings in cases in which the numerous and various counsel are interested. Four persons at rack,' and obtain a sight of the Judge, or any defilawyers in the rear, (though only six or eight more | male witnesses in Court. can be squeezed in between the tables,) cannot at all see the Judge when they are seated; and hence it is common to see them all rise up and stand one tion and arrangement of the Court room, and behind the other, sometimes three deep, and occa- the appearance and effect thereof upon the jusionally some one in the third row and farthest | ry, Bar and Bench, my next Number will be defrom the Bench, is compolled to address the Court without being able to obtain even a glimpse of the Judge. Erruptions of the skin, or paras or alcurs arising from an injudicious use of Me-cury, or an inmure state of the blood.

The careative properties of this medicine. consists in its producing a sure and effectual alterative of the whole system. In slight eruptions of the skin, or recently contracted diseases, one small bottle effects the cure, while the experience of those who have been cured by it, of ong standing and obstinate diseases, is, that it requires from three to four large bottles to effect perfect cure, and no return of the disease. It usually produces a tonic effect, while (in most eases) it also acts as a gentle cathartic, increasing the appetite and general health of the patient, causing all sores, or nicers, to discharge more profusely than before taking it, and inducing a perfectly, healthy action of the blood. Enough must be taken to effec an alterative, and as is the case with all medicines, its effects will vary as the several constitutions differ from each other therefore those using it, should not distrust its diency, if they do not receive immediate bene fit. It is prepared with great care, and the Extracis brought into so small a compass, as to require usually but one table spoon full each day for an adult. It is now in use by the first Physicians in the country and pronounced by them the best anti-Mercurial medicine known, and the most efficacious, in the cure of cutar cons and scrofula effections. The cure effected by it, are truly astonishing, as may be seen by reference PER, blue white and other colors, laid HISTORIES, by Hale, Willard. Bancroft, of all the agents.
